

MUSLIM JUDICIAL COUNCIL HALAAL TRUST

Trust Deed (T.975/92)

Established in 1948

Fees Guidelines

1. Certification Fees:

The charges may vary from type and nature of businesses. It may also vary for first site to the second depending upon the type of business establishment and their products.

(Cost of each additional site: To be advised after assessment of the site, products and production processes but generally would be at discounted rate in case of similar nature).

Assessment of Fees:

- Application materials, phone, email, processing and renewal
- Type of business: High risk, medium risk or low risk (Nature of food products and possibility and frequency of occurrence of cross contamination from Halal Point of view)
- If Halal products are exported or require halal supervision
- Assessment involve:
 - Nature and type of products: Halal and/or Non-Halal, nutritional etc
 - Number of products
 - Number of production lines to produce Halal
 - Extent of production facilities: equipment's and machinery
 - Frequency of on-the-spot inspections
 - Frequency of support needed by the company
 - Frequency of certification needed by the company
 - Develop unique halal program for specific needs of business
 - Floor capacity of the premises (from reception of raw materials to finish products and distribution to consumers/clients)

2. Site Audit/ Inspection Fees:

Inspection required per site: at least once a year or depending upon the nature of products and processes: High risk, low risk or medium risk, no risk area.

Audits are required based on standards governed by import regulations and Halal standards.

Duties:

- Assessing Halal Compliance and Requirements
- Auditing of records
- Quality Assurance
- Good Manufacturing Practices
- Manufacturing Facilities
- Hygiene and Health
- Rodent and pest control

3. Additional Expenses:

National audits - Airfares, car hire, uber, accommodation and meals are charged at cost to the client.

International audits - Airfares, car hire, uber, accommodation and meals are charged at cost to client.

Advertising – Promoting clients advertising material on MJC website and media platforms. (If Required)

4. Logos

Logos are supplied to the client upon receipt of annual fees.

5. No additional cost:

MJCHT is also committed to provide: at No extra cost

- Technical and Sharia information through telephone inquiry, email, photocopy and distribution, circular about ongoing Halal status of the product as well as ingredients, on behalf of the accredited company
- Help maintain level of confidence of consumers about the Halal Certified company and its range of Halal Products
- Halal guide and information on MJCHT website
- Community media: radio talk, sending or forwarding information on behalf of the relevant company to various religious organizations.
- News bulletin
- Seminars & conferences: local & international
- Community gathering